

Privacy Policy & Terms of Use for eLegalls

1. Privacy Policy

1.1 Data Collection and Storage

eLegalls collects and securely stores your email address upon sign-up to manage your account and provide the service. We employ encryption and other industry-standard security measures to protect your personal information from unauthorized access, use, or disclosure. Your email will not be shared with third parties unless required by law or to improve the functionality of our platform.

1.2 User Rights

You may request access to, update, or delete your personal information at any time by contacting our support team. We retain your email for the duration of your account and as necessary to comply with legal obligations.

2. Terms of Use

2.1 Accuracy and Suitability of Generated Content

Content generated by eLegalls is intended as a tool to assist users. Output may contain inaccuracies, biases, or omissions. Users are solely responsible for reviewing, verifying, and validating the accuracy, legality, and suitability of the content before use. eLegalls is not liable for any damages arising from reliance on its outputs.

2.2 Acceptable Use Policy

You agree to use eLegalls and its generated content lawfully, in good faith, and solely for legitimate purposes. Prohibited activities include, but are not limited to:

- Unlawful Use: Generating or distributing content that violates laws, regulations, or intellectual property rights.
- Misrepresentation: Using the service to create misleading, deceptive, or fraudulent content.
- Harassment or Discrimination: Producing content that promotes hate speech, harassment, or discrimination.

2.3 Prohibited Activities

Using eLegalls to engage in, support, or facilitate illegal activities (e.g., fraud, cybercrime, or harassment) is strictly prohibited. Violations may result in immediate account termination and legal action.

You cannot use eLegalls to directly or indirectly provide personalized advice that requires a professional license (such as legal advice or medical advice). A qualified, licensed professional must always be directly and appropriately involved in delivering such advice. eLegalls is intended to support, not replace, their essential expertise.

2.4 User Responsibility

You are solely responsible for your use of the service and any content you generate or share. eLegalls does not endorse or assume liability for your actions or the consequences thereof.

3. Modifications

eLegalls reserves the right to update these policies at any time. Continued use of the service constitutes acceptance of revised terms.

By using eLegalls, you acknowledge and agree to these Privacy Policy and Terms of Use.
